

Prof. Dr. Frank Kirchhoff, Molecular Physiology, CIPMM,
University of Saarland, Building 48, D-66421 Homburg, Germany

Prof. Xian-Shu Bai
China Pharmaceutical University
639 Longmian Avenue
Nanjing 211198, P.R. China

Personal information:
Female, date of birth: Feb.20, 1985
Passport No.: PE3596079

Prof. Dr. Frank Kirchhoff

Molecular Physiology
CIPMM, University of Saarland
Building 48
D-66421 Homburg, Germany
Phone +49 6841 1616 441
Fax +49 6841 1616 439
E-Mail frank.kirchhoff@uks.eu
Web www.kirchhoff-lab.de

Homburg, July 9th, 2026

Invitation to scientific events of the Sino-German Mobility project

Dear Prof. Xian-Shu Bai,

On behalf of the organizing committee, it is our pleasure of inviting you to join special scientific events of the Mobility project (M-0679) funded by the Sino-German Center for Research Promotion and organized by five research groups (Yong Tang, Chengdu University of TCM; Quan-Hong Ma, Soochow University; Shan Bian, Tongji University; Wenhui Huang, Sun Yat-sen University (SYSU); and Frank Kirchhoff (USAAR)).

I would like to invite you to Germany for an academic exchange from September 20th to September 27th, 2026. This year we will have the 3rd Sino-German workshop "Advanced Concepts of Neuron-Glia Interactions" from 21-24th of September 2026 at the CIPMM. Afterwards, we will organize communication events for future collaborations on Sino-German joint project and Gender-specific Biology and Medicine from 25-26th of September 2026. I eagerly anticipate your visit and the fruitful discussions that will help advance our collaborative efforts.

The Sino-German Mobility project (M-0679) will provide full coverage of your travel costs, accommodation, and meals.

Further details, including the program, travel instructions, and accommodation information, will be sent to you later.

Sincerely yours

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads 'Frank Kirchhoff'.

Prof. Dr. Frank Kirchhoff

UNIVERSITÄT
DES
SAARLANDES